Fact Sheet

On the scalloped coastline of the Bodrum Peninsula, Amanruya - the name meaning ‘peaceful dream’ - lies in a landscape of sheltered coves and ancient olive groves. Overlooking a kilometre of private beach with far-reaching views of the Aegean Sea, the property is laid out as a traditional village, with rustic guest Pavilions of stone and terracotta bleached by the Mediterranean sun. Away from the property’s jewel-like central pool and elegant Beach Club, guests can explore the area’s magnificent ruins, including the Unesco World Heritage Site of Ephesus, along with artisan villages and picturesque hiking trails.

Location

- Amanruya lies on Turkey’s southeastern coast, on the north side of the Bodrum Peninsula in Mandalya Bay
- Located around 15–20 minutes from the town of Bodrum, the property enjoys a rural setting, surrounded by olive groves and set against pine-cloaked hills
- The turquoise Aegean laps Amanruya’s private pebble beach

Complimentary Inclusions

- Welcome amenities including a bottle of local wine, fruit platter and homemade Turkish Delight
- In-room refreshments including coffee machine and snacks replenished daily
- Daily a la carte breakfast in The Restaurant
- Daily afternoon tea with a selection of sweets and cookies

Getting There

- Milas-Bodrum International Airport (BJV) is Amanruya’s nearest international airport, connecting daily with Istanbul and many other European hubs
- Transfers between Amanruya and Milas-Bodrum International Airport take around 30 minutes each way

Accommodation

Constructed from local stone and wood, Amanruya’s freestanding Pavilions are alike in design and layout, with a variation between garden and sea views. Sheltered by a terracotta roof, each Pavilion is encircled by shady gardens with pergolas and private 32-36 m<sup>2</sup> (344-388 ft<sup>2</sup>) pools. Inside, the cool white walls and marble floors are offset by Ottoman-inspired touches – dark beams, charcoal braziers and kilim (rugs).

Activities & Excursions

Amanruya provides a varied menu of activities throughout the seasons: in summer the focus is on sea- and beach-based experiences, while in the cooler months activities include exploring the region on foot, bike and horseback, or further afield by private car.

Cruising

- Sailing around the Bodrum Peninsula is a unique way to enjoy both the beautiful coastline and Bodrum itself, centred on a 15th-century castle housing a marine archaeology museum
- The famed Gulet cruising route sets sail from the Bodrum Peninsula and takes in secluded coves, beaches and ancient ruins, allowing guests the opportunity to snorkel, dive or explore en route

Countryside activities

- The forests around Amanruya are full of winding trails ideal for hiking, mountain biking or horse riding
- Picnics can be arranged to be enjoyed on beaches or in forest glades
- Amanruya lies within easy reach of a small golf club
- Discover the region's artisan heritage at the village of Mumcular, a pottery centre upholding a tradition of craftsmanship dating back to Ottoman times

Ancient cultural sites

- Many classical ruins lie within reach of Amanruya and can easily be explored as part of a day trip
- The ancient Greek, and later Roman, city of Ephesus is a Unesco World Heritage Site, 2.5 hours' drive north of Amanruya
- The ruined temples at Didyma, Miletus and Priene can be visited en route to Ephesus
- Other ancient sites worth exploring are Labranda, Herakleia, Euromos and the hot springs at Pamukkale

Bodrum

- One of the area's most attractive seaside towns, Bodrum lies just south of Amanruya
- Along with its medieval castle, the town's attractions include a picturesque marina and streets lined with cafes, shops, restaurants, bars and meyhanes (taverns)
